

THE defendant Catherine F. McCall not having entered her appearance and adversely according to the statute and the order of this court, and it appearing that said defendant, Catherine F. McCall, is an inhabitant of this District—on motion of the said complainant, by his counsel, ordered, That the said defendant, Catherine F. McCall, do appear here on the day of the next Term, and enter her appearance to the suit, and give security performing the decrees of the court; and the other defendant, John Creighton & Company, do not pay away, convey of settle, the debts by them owing to, or estate or effects in their hands belonging to the said absent defendant Catherine McCall, until the further order of the court; and that a copy of this order be forthwith published for two months consecutively in one of the public newspapers published in this county; and that a copy be posted at the front door of the court-house of the said county.

PROPOSALS
BY JOSEPH M. SANDERSON, for publishing by subscription, BIOGRAPHY OF THE SIGNERS TO THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE,

ACCOMPANIED WITH PLATES; which will be annexed a history of the proceedings of congress during the passage of the law, and the Declaration itself, with fac-simile engravings of the signatures.

By PAUL ALLEN, Esq.

TO THE PUBLIC.
seems a little surprising that amongst so many subjects have been presented to American Biography, the lives of those who have affixed their signatures to Declaration of Independence have been looked over or disregarded. The eyes of usands have dwelt with rapture upon the document that announced to the world that these United Colonies were, and of right ought to be, free, sovereign, and independent states; while we are better acquainted with the handwriting than with the characters of many of those illustrious men have added their signatures to that immortal document. The founders of the only republic on the globe, have, with splendid exceptions, gone to their rest, and it behooves a generous posterity, able of their obligations, to preserve their fame. The longer we neglect the memory of so sacred a debt, the more difficult does the payment become.—Traits of individual character are fugitive and evan-escent, and if they are not snatched by hand of the Biographic Muse, at an earlier period, from the cold grasp of death, will partake of the oblivion of the body.— It is not the object of the present attempt, deal in that profusion of indiscriminate unflattering panegyric, so often and so seldom dignified with the name of Biography; we wish to represent the characters they were; they stand in need of no panegyric; and we earnestly solicit from the writing relations and friends of those revolutionary patriots all the information that tend to a development of character, and the creature of circumstance, and wish to show the progress of those pa-trials from their first resistance of colonial oppression, until they stood forth the noble undaunted champions of their country's dependence. All this can only be done by a familiar acquaintance with the lives of the men, and whoever of the surviving sons or relatives will furnish facts and circumstances in their possession to unfold illustrate their characters, shall be endowed to a copy of the work as a recompense. It is contemplated, wherever it is available, further to embellish the medical work with correct likenesses of the subjects of our biography, executed by the most eminent artists in the country. For purpose we again solicit the assistance of their surviving relatives and friends. If any will transmit to the publisher any engraving or portrait from which a copy may be taken, the original shall be faithfully returned, and shall likewise be remunerated a copy of the work. In the first number it is proposed to give an account of the Declaration of Independence, from the first motion that was made on the floor of congress until its final passage into a law, a period embracing much curious and secret history; finally, we propose to add to our number the Declaration of Independence itself, with fac-simile engravings of signatures. We have now compendiously stated the objects of our present undertaking, and we hope that it will be unnecessary to mention that no exertions on our part shall be spared.

THE public are now in possession of our subject, which does indeed seem to be demanded, by the avidity so recently displayed for the possession of the Declaration of Independence, since it is of very little importance to become acquainted with a man's life and writing without a previous knowledge of the man. The secret history of our Declaration of Independence, the lives of those who have affixed their signatures to that immortal document, accompanied by their likenesses, finally the Declaration itself with facsimile of the signatures, will bring into one compact view the prominent facts of that resting crisis.

CONDITIONS.
The work will be published in number, or half volumes, of 150 pages octavo, and will be contained in ten numbers.

It will be printed on fine paper made ready for the purpose, and delivered to subscribers at two dollars and fifty cents per volume or number, payable on deliver.

office of the Alexandria Gazette,

EXCHANGE BANKING HOUSE, AND BROKER'S OFFICE,
Bridge-street, Georgetown.

THIS is intended as a permanent establishment, and the community will find it one of the greatest conveniences in the United States, and of great public utility.
At this house the fair exchange on the different bank notes from every part of the Union can at all times be had: It is to be hoped that, by the operations of this office, the community will get rid of a host of shillies, Shavers, Secret and Running Brokers, who infest the District, frequently proclaiming the failure of country solvent banks, for the express purpose of purchasing the notes of such institutions at great discounts. Business under the following heads will be transacted. This establishment possesses funds to negotiate for any amount, and all business done for cash.
1st. All bank checks, bills at sight, post notes not due, and bank notes from all parts of the United States, bought and sold.
2d. All notes, bills of exchange, dividends and interests, collected and remitted according to orders.
3d. The notes of the United States bank and all of its branches received at par.
4th. Strangers, citizens, and others, may deposit current money for safe keeping—and if left for thirty days, or longer, will receive at the rate of six per cent. per annum for the same.
5th. All business in the line of a money broker promptly attended to for a small commission.
6th. All southern and western traders, bringing to the district large sums of southern and western bank notes, can deposit for safe keeping, and draw for the same as may suit their convenience.
7th. Prompt attention paid to the orders of all respectable brokers and exchange offices throughout the United States—who will please to favor me occasionally with their rates of exchange on bank notes and bills.

will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U.
States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and West, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on.

Gone to the Southward or Westward.
A YELLOW WOMAN, called Celia Detcher, in the 23d year of her age, about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches high—marks like moles on the right side of her face, which, with several letters on her left arm, were made with india ink. She is about four months gone in a state of pregnancy—followed her husband, Jim Clark, a yellow man, who was purchased from this place and taken away in company with a large number of slaves, about two week ago, by a man of the name of Bassett. It is supposed they have gone to the westward: It is certified of her freedom, and description of her person. Her mother, the subscriber, is much afflicted by her manner of goingaway, and desires that any humane people who may chance to meet with her, will persuade her to return, being apprehensive that when she gets into a strange country, where she will be unknown and out of the reach of her friends and those who would be likely to protect her, attempts may be made by some avaricious and unprincipled persons, to deprive her of her liberty, and sell her for a slave. Should any such attempts be made, fifty dollars reward will be paid to any person who will communicate such information as shall lead to the conviction of the offenders, and the recovery of the woman.
HANNAH DETCHER.
Alexandria, October 6, 1818.

To the Public.
AN unusual sensibility has been excited in the minds of our countrymen by the copper plate engraving of the Declaration of Independence recently published, accompanied by the signatures of the signature of those illustrious patriots who framed the document by which our independence was announced to the world. We feel, while we dwell on those signatures, as if we were ushered into the immediate presence of characters so exalted, and we seem for a time to participate in all the emotion which they felt on the approach of so awful a crisis—Hostile armies, desolate fields, towns and cities in conflagration—carnage and death in its most frightful forms appeared in prophetic vision on the one hand, and more than all, the complicated horrors, ignominy and slavery were presented for their acceptance on the other; they deliberated; they paused; they trembled, and at last solemnly appealing to the God of battles, they resolved that the United States were and ought to be free, sovereign and independent. These illustrious patriots, with few solitary exceptions, have now mingled with the common mould—they survive only in their country's glory and in the recollection of a grateful people. But it would be consoling to the present generation, repa-rated as they now are from those patriots, by the intervention of the tomb, to become more intimately acquainted with their revolutionary benefactors. We love to dwell on the features of such men, snatched by the pencil from the oblivion of the grave, and emulate the prominent traits of their biography. Impressed with these ideas, the subscriber proposes, if suitable encouragement is given, to publish the lives of those patriots in numbers, until the whole is completed. The work will be executed in a style not inferior to any European productions, and the portraits by masters of ac-knowledgeed merit. The biography will be written by Paul Allen, Esq. whose intimacy with the several signers, whose familiarity with the privations and hardships they had to undergo, and whose well known talents will be sufficient to ensure the patronage of an enlightened people. In the execution of this work, all that the publisher dares to promise is, that he will endeavor to deserve the confidence of his countrymen, and that no exertion on his part will be wanting to prevent an abuse of that confidence. He ventures to solicit the assistance of those gentlemen in possession of authentic facts and anecdotes, by communicating the intelligence that will serve to illustrate the characters and to enrich the biography of those founders of the American Republic.—Those who are in possession of their portraits would enlarge the obligation by a loan of the same.
A prospectus with the terms will be given in a few days.

Laws of the District of Columbia.
In the press, and will shortly be published,
By DAVIS & FORCE,
IN THE CITY OF WASHINGTON, A COMPLETE CODE OF LAWS FOR THE
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

With a copious index, prepared and reported by the Hon. chief justice CLANCH, to the congress of the United States, for their sanction; agreeably to the provisions of the act of the 29th April, 1816, entitled "an act authorizing the judges of the circuit court and the attorney for the District of Columbia, to prepare a code of jurisprudence for the said District."

The laws by which this District is now governed, can only be found by a reference to the numerous volumes containing those of the United States, of the states of Virginia and Maryland, and of England—therefore the acquisition of this code (which will comprise the whole in one volume,) must be considered as of the first importance, by all magistrates, gentlemen of the bar, and citizens in general, who have, heretofore, experienced the necessity of a work of this description.

A few extra copies will be printed for such persons only as apply previous to the publication of the work.
Gentlemen who wish to be supplied, will please to leave their names at this office.

PURCHASED BY
Oct 24 LAWRASON & FOWLE.

The National Register
IS a paper which is published every Saturday, at the city of Washington, in the District of Columbia, and each number contains sixteen pages octavo, in small but very legible type. It makes two volumes in the year; and every volume is accompanied with a copious index. The price per annum is five dollars, payable in advance.
The Public Documents, both foreign and domestic; the proceedings of Congress, and authentic news of every description, are regularly inserted therein, and accompanied by critical and explanatory remarks. Its value is also enhanced by occasional reviews of literary works; and all its sentiments are decidedly American, independent of all party considerations. For this work, which is well established, regularly

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

By the arrival of the British Packet Speedy, Capt. Osborn, 46 days from Falmouth, we have received from our Falmouth and London Correspondents, London papers to the 12th of December, two days later than were received by the Atlantic. A few items are selected.

Price of Stocks, Dec. 12.—Bank stock, 270 1-8; three per cent reduced, 78 1-8 1-4; three and half per cent, 88 1-8, 87 7-8; four per cent, 95 7-8 96.

Corn Exchange, Dec. 11.—In consequence of several arrivals from the Norfolk and Suffolk coasts, a large quantity of wheat was in the market, and the price fell 2s. per quarter. English wheat sold from 70s to 82s. per quarter; flour, 6s 70 per sack; rape seed, 44s 4d per cask. 14840 sacks of American flour were imported the last week.

Markets, Dec. 12.—Rice, Carolina, bonded, new, 42 s 4d; East India, 19 s 23s. Cotton, Bahia, 19d s 10d; Maranhao, 19d s 10d; Pernambuco, 11 s 11a.

Tobacco.—There has been little or nothing doing, nor can any correct quotations of prices be made under the present state of the market, which continues drooping. At a public sale on the 11th inst. 90 hhds of Virginia and Kentucky, some purchases were made by the trade at reduced prices: heavy Virginia sold at 7d a 83d, and some fine at 93d. The greater part which consisted of dry ordinary and middling Kentucky, met no buyers at 6d a 63d at which prices they were withdrawn.

The king of Prussia arrived at Potsdam on the 28th of Nov. from Aix-la-Chapelle. The persons who had been arrested at Brussels, were, on the 5th December, under examination; they were charged with "plots tending to excite a civil war, by arming the inhabitants against each other, in the Kingdom of the Netherlands."

On the 12th of December, there was a considerable sensation in the money market, owing to the Bank of England having come to the determination to limit their discounts; the bank had thrown out "an immense quantity of bills, presented by bankers and individuals of the first respectability." Specie was so scarce in the city, that good bills were with difficulty, cashed at 5 per cent.

The king of Württemberg has abolished the punishment of the gauntlet in his army. A new candidate for Westminster was expected to offer himself in a few days; his political principles are the same which governed Sir S. Romilly.

A meeting of the Common Council of the city of London has been held for the purpose of considering the propriety of petitioning Parliament to revive and alter the penal code, in order to diminish the number of capital punishments for minor offences. Mr. Flavel, one of the Speakers, observed that during the reign of Henry VIII. two thousand persons were executed annually.

Lord Ellenborough is stated to be considerably better. Sir Isaac Heard, garter king at arms, attained his 83th year the 10th of January. He has officiated at the funeral of six of the Royal family.

The new Austrian levy is to consist of 60,000 men.

A Bristol paper states that a deputation will be sent by government to the Princess of Wales, to negotiate her return to England, "no other person having a right to hold a drawing room."

The commerce of Leipsic has sustained a considerable shock, by the failure of the house of Albrecht and Bauer, for the sum of 300,000 dollars, of which one third is due to the merchants of Leipsic.

Letters from Paris, anticipate warm work during the session of the Legislature, which had just commenced. It is said the Ministers will have to withstand the attacks of violent parties which are in array against them.

In the court of Exchequer, several more convictions against vendors of imitative tea, coffee and tobacco, have taken place.—Mr. Copes, a grocer in Leeds, has been fined 1425s. and T. & G. Neeson, of Manchester 300l.

The search for the king's jewels has been renewed in every direction, but without success, the casket which contained them, has been found empty.

The bank of England, it is expected, will immediately call in their one and two pound notes, amounting to five millions—to redeem which, three million of specie are ready to issue, and two millions more are coming.

Count Luban, one of the French exiles has obtained permission to return to France from the Netherlands.

A woman recently died in England, who had for the preceding week laid in a dormant state. In the course of that time she was bled when she opened her eyes, but immediately fell into a fit of somnolency and continued so until she died.

A letter from Hamburg of November 28th says, that agreeable to a formal request of the Spanish Ministers, a great number of young men, who had enrolled themselves for the service of the Insurgents of South America, have been arrested.

An Antwerp Journal of Dec. 6, states, that the fatal effects of the corn trade begin to be felt—money is scarce in all the commercial places of the kingdom, and what little remains is at an extravagantly high rate.

The report of the murder of Lady Darnley is contradicted in the times of December 11. This paper says that her Ladyship was at Bath on the ninth, in good health.

Prices current at St. Thomas, Dec. 21.

Beef, mess, 16 s 17 dols.; prime 13 s 14 dols.; pork, mess, 26 s 27 dols.; do prime, 24 s; bacon hams, 17 s 18 s; cheese 18 s; butter, 18 s 20 s; flour, Philadelphia, 10 50; do Va. 9 s 9 75; corn, 3 s 3 50; meal, pun. 28 s; white beans, bul. 6; black eyed peas, do; broad; pilot. 6; do Navy, 5 s; crackers, keg 50 cts.; lard, pound, 18 s 20 s; soap, 11 s 12 s; rice, 7 25 s 7 50 s; tar, 34 barrel; turpentine, 5 s 6; potash and beer, 2 s 2 80; Cypress shingles, 5 s 6 M; w. o. staves, 24—Cordage, 100 pounds, 10 dols.

ROBBERY OF THE MAIL.

In addition to the official notice published yesterday, we have collected the following particulars of this atrocious villany. At the time and place mentioned yesterday, one of the men ran before the leading horses, and told Wm. Smith, the driver, to stop.—The other two immediately presented themselves, armed with pistols, and took the driver from his seat. They then at the traces, and one of the reins, and went to the coach doors; one presenting a pistol, the other a large knife or dirk, and demanded whatever money the passengers had. There were five gentlemen and a lady, passengers. From one they obtained a pocket-book, containing only a small sum; from another a gold watch; and from a third, Mr. Cowan of this city, a small sum in change. They attempted to force this gentleman out of the coach, but he remonstrating with them, they left the passengers, and proceeded in search of the mail, which was forward. They cut a hole of about twenty inches in the portmanteau, through which they drew as many packages of letters as filled a pair of saddle bags and a pocket handkerchief. They then made off, having detained the stage about twenty minutes.

We have ascertained that the following packages are missing.

FOR THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

From Philadelphia, one hundred single letters, eight double, two treble, one marked 63s cents, and one marked 75.

From Baltimore, one bundle in which was enclosed the bill, and of course the number of letters is not yet ascertained.

From New-Orleans, sixty-one single letters.

For New-York State, four bundles are received, and it is supposed that six or eight have been taken by the robbers.

For Connecticut State.—One bundle only received. The number missing not known.

From Washington for Boston.—About one half missing. The package marked No. 2, enclosing the bill was received.

For New-Hampshire State.—Several packages are missing.

From Washington for District of Maine. One package missing.

For Massachusetts State.—Only one package received, and that without the bill.

In addition to the above, many entire mails may have been taken, which cannot be ascertained in this city.

We understand that Mr. Cowan had time to secure his watch and money. Another of the passengers tore a hole in the lining of the stage, and secreted a large amount in bills.

A gentleman from Newark informs us, that a large party started from that place early this morning, in pursuit of the villains.

Since the above was in type, we have been obligingly favored with the following official statement:—

Account of Moila missing and received at New-York, 1st Feb. 1819.

From Washington to New York state, received bundles Nos. 1, 3, 4 and 5; bill missing, and the number of bundles not known.

From Georgetown (Col.) to do. do.

MORE PIRACY!!

We are sickened indeed with the almost daily record of buccaneering, which it becomes our duty to lay before our readers. It will be recollected, that some time since a narrative was republished from a Norfolk print, of the running away from that port, of the Chilian armed schr. Hornet. One of her officers who arrived here a day or two since, in the brig Gen. Ripley, has furnished us with the following particulars, for publication.

It appears that when the Hornet got under way to make her escape, capt. Orne, and all the commissioned officers except one, (our informant) were on shore. That captain O. had no intention in any shape, of eluding the regulations of the custom house. That he had sent orders on board his vessel, to have her brought to anchor under the fort, until he should have completed his business at the custom house; and that he had the vessel's commission and other papers about him: Instead of complying with these orders, it appears that James Beatty, a petty officer, harranged the crew and induced them to proceed to sea. Accordingly, after confining in irons the only officer on board, said B, was appointed commander, and an ornet sailed on her piratical voyage.

Our informant was kept in irons 15 days by the mutineers, during which time they experienced a heavy gale of wind, which so alarmed them, that they threw over her whole armament, except one gun and thirteen muskets. During this period they plundered the brig—, captain Greely, from St. Ustatia, of money and other valuables to a considerable amount; also, a Hamburg ship from Hamburg, off the Hole in the Wall—out of the latter of which, they took 4 guns, and other articles. When our informant left the pirate she was at anchor off the west end of the Grand Bahama, and plundered every thing that came in her way. Whilst in irons on board, our informant was repeatedly threatened with death, and two or three times they had a rope about his neck for that purpose. A minority of the crew wished to stand by him, and obey his orders, but they were overwhelmed by the stronger party. They at last, however, agreed to let him go, and he was accordingly put on board the brig Gen. Ripley, captain Drew, who was passing at the time, from Rum Key for this port, where he arrived on Monday last. This officer further states, that it was his intention to have got the vessel in some port in the United States or Venezuela, to have the mutineers tried for their lives—but his efforts were unavailing.

He has applied, we understand, to the collector of the port, for assistance to go and endeavor to capture her.

The name of the officer who furnished these particulars, as well as of her newly appointed officers, are in our possession. The Hornet was a government vessel, and had every necessary document, previous to her departure from Norfolk. She has now no papers on board of any description whatever.

SIR GEORGE MAC GREGOR.

From the above gentleman, who was in Nassau about twelve days since, we learn that this officer had touched there, on his passage from London to Venezuela in a fine brig of 18 guns; and had sailed again to join Lord Cochran's squadron, which consisted of 2 frigates, 2 sloops and 2 brigades of war, besides transports. The number of land forces said to have gone out in this expedition, amounted to between 3 and 4000. It was currently reported at Nassau, that Sir Francis Borellet was also engaged in the emancipation of South-America.

From the Albany Daily Advertiser.

I have frequently heard these questions asked "Why dollars never return to this country from China?" and "What becomes of the immense sums sent to that distant region?" I myself have often thought on this subject; and since the scarcity of specie is so severely felt in this country, that it is in contemplation to prohibit its exportation, it has brought to my recollection a conversation I had some years since with an intelligent merchant, who had been at Canton, and who was then concerned in the India and China trade.

I asked him, what became of the dollars which were daily shipped off from all parts of Europe and America to China, and why none of them ever returned?—To the former part of the question he said he could give no satisfactory answer—but to the latter he had no hesitation. We could as well he said, bring back ship loads of dollars from China, as to take them thither. That whatever of merchandise or produce we sent to the Chinese market, would be paid for there as readily in dollars as in the productions of their country. But it was no object, he added, to bring dollars from China to either Europe or America. Such a measure would be a ruinous speculation—it would be bringing a return cargo which would give no profit or benefit to the merchant or shipper. It would be nearly the loss of the whole voyage. It would be bringing home an article of much less value here than in that far distant country from which it came. That this was the only reason why dollars were not imported from China, instead of their teas, their silks, and their spices. That these latter articles often afforded a large profit, and if dollars would but once do the same you would hear no more of their shipment to China. I think here is a rational solution for the scarcity of specie—We do not stamp on it a sufficient value—it is cheap an article of commerce in the markets both of Europe and America—Let its value be enhanced—Let something more be required in exchange for it, and my word for it you will hear no more of the scarcity of specie.

I hope, sir, none of your readers will cavil at my calling specie an article of commerce. It is as much so as tea or coffee, wheat or barley, broadcloth or cassimere—or any other manufacture or production whatever; and in my humble opinion ought to be considered in all commercial countries, and to rise and fall in the market in the same manner. Why is the man with a thousand dollars in specie in his chest, and the farmer with a thousand dollars worth of wheat in his granary, not placed in the same situation? But we find the latter at the end of 3 to 6 months, often receiving 1,600 dols. for his wheat, while the former has nothing but his one thousand. Now, I ask, why this difference? Reason, humanity, and common sense, would seem to say, that bread-corn should not rise in value—it should always remain stationary, and at the same price—it should not be permitted to fluctuate—it is the staff of life—the gift of Heaven to man, and neither the poor nor the rich can sustain human life without it. But money is a very different thing—it is whole use is to enable the merchant to exchange his commodities with more ease and facility than he could do without its aid—and I can see no reason why gold and silver should not be allowed to be bartered as any other article.

I verily believe, sir, much of the evil now complained of on account of the scarcity of specie, would be remedied by such a measure; and as an incipient step, and without adding further at this time, permit me to recommend to our state legislatures to repeal all our laws on the subject of usury.

ALEXANDRIA:
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1819.

COMMUNICATION.

We understand that Mr. Brennan, (one of the first vocal performers) who has lately arrived from Europe, is on his way to the southern states; and perceive he gives a concert on Tuesday next at Washington. We have some hope that he will come on to Alexandria. From the great fame this gentleman has acquired in New-York, Philadelphia, &c. the amateur in music, and citizens, will have a rich treat indeed in hearing him.

Washington Feb. 5.

SUPREME COURT.

We got the impression, from common report, that only two of the Judges attended on Monday. We now learn that the following Judges attended, viz.: Chief Justice Marshall—Judges Washington, Johnson, Livingston, Duwall, and Story.

[National Intelligencer.

Arrived in the Potomac river, from Norfolk, the steam boat Roanoke, with about 20 passengers, [among whom were captains Harrington and Adger, of the Navy. The Roanoke left Norfolk, on Saturday evening, but, on account of the thickness of the weather, came too at night, abreast of New Point Comfort. On Sunday morning she encountered a severe snow storm, which compelled her to make a harbor in the Rappahannock, from whence she got under way on Monday morning, and came to an anchor a few miles below the city the same night. The very heavy weather she experienced afforded an excellent opportunity to try her machinery, which is of a different construction from any hitherto in use, and is reported to us, by a gentleman who has seen it, to be of superior power, and more complete workmanship, than that on the old plan. [Ibid.

R. B. Reid is elected a Representative to Congress from the state of Georgia, vice John Forsyth, elected to the Senate.

OFFICIAL LONGEVITY. [Ibid.

Some of the Eastern papers mention, that a man by the name of George Jackson, is now in commission as Justice of the Peace in the town of Boscawen, New-Hampshire, who was first commissioned under George II of England, and again under George III, and who has been in commission under the State Government ever since its adoption.

Rev. Mr. Griffin, may be expected to preach in the Baptist meeting house, this Evening. February 5

The Trustees of the Alexandria Academy are requested to meet at the Exchange Coffee-House on Saturday at 4 p. m. February 4.
